Dear UOWD fellow,

The University of Wollongong in Dubai is planning to offer undergraduate engineering programs in addition to its existing Business and Information Technology programs.

The University is conducting a survey in order to assess the need for skills in engineering and employment opportunities for graduates from engineering in the UAE and the region. This survey is initially focused on the fields of Electrical, Telecommunication, Computer and Civil engineering.

The objective of the survey is to get feedback from major employers in the UAE in first place and also from other employers in the region. The surveys are available online and contain each no more than 10 questions.
